

Season 1 Episode 3

Multisword

A star freighter is flying through Ultraverse space and it is carrying cargo filled with urns. Guards guard the urns and there is a crew on the bridge controlling and flying the giant freighter. The freighter is armed with a large array of weapons and it has a superb state-of-the-art shield system. One of the crates moves and the top of the crate opens. An urn with human eyes jumps out of the crate. The urn also has suction cups on both the top and bottom. The urn jumps and sticks near a window and he sees the freighter is in deep space. He jumps close to the bridge without anyone seeing him and he sees they are loaded with shields and weapons. The urn jumps down in front of everyone and he extends four arms and each arm wields a sword. The urn said, "Behold! The ultimate mighty, Multisword!" One of the guards points and said, "It's him! It is Multisword! Open fire on him!" The guards open fire and Multisword jumps and dodges all the bullets and he fights and defeats all the guards in a matter of seconds. The people controlling the ship watch in fear. Multisword jumps to the people flying the ship and he aims his swords at them. Multisword said, "No one has ever beaten me before. Not even the great master, Augi has beaten me." The people controlling the ship look at each other and they throw off their disguises revealing they are Ultraverse Monks. Multisword said, "Ultraverse Monks. I am really shaking in my boots that is, if I had any boots since I don't have boots on account of, I HAVE NO FEET!"

The Ultraverse Monks fight Multisword and Multisword slashes down a few of the monks and more gang up on him. Multisword jumps and sticks to the high ceiling and he plummets down and he fights more of the monks. One of the monks is a master and he said, "I would be honored to be the first monk master to beat the infamous, Multisword." Multisword said, "That won't happen." Multisword jumps and fights the master and he lures the master into an empty crate and Multisword locks the crate. Multisword stands near the door to the outside hall of the bridge. Multisword said, "You amateur monks are going to have to chase me." Multisword bounces around the halls and all the monks on the bridge leave the bridge and they chase Multisword. Multisword bounces back to the bridge and he closes the door and locks it and he has full control of the bridge.

Ivan is in a decontamination chamber dressed in a white space-aged suit. A computer voice said, "Decontamination process completed. You are now free of Convind." Ivan walks out of the decontamination chamber. Ivan goes and opens a locker that has his things and he sees a note telling him to meet Keith at his house.

Ivan shows up to Keith's house and Keith said, "Come in." Keith is sitting at his desk in a giant bedroom filled with all sorts of collectibles and knick-knacks from several different universes. Ivan looks around the place and Ivan said, "Whoa! Where did you get all this stuff?" Keith said, "I have collected these things from the different universes I've visited over the past two years." Ivan said, "I never realized one person could have so much." Keith said, "I thought it was fun at first but now it is becoming more of a burden." Ivan looks through the stuff and he sees a book titled, "Thy Rules." Ivan said, "Thy Rules." Keith said, "That is a rule book I found in that universe where fairy godparents are given to underprivileged children. There are a ton of rules they have to follow and they are all written in that book." Ivan looks through the contents of the book.

Ivan sees a plastic squeezer connected to an eye dropper. Ivan said, "What's this?" Keith said, "That's a turkey baster or a Canadian Squirt Gun as they called it in the universe I where I found it." Ivan sees another book and it has a hand with squiggly seven fingers with a number 4 on the palm. Ivan said, "I suppose this is another book of rules from some universe." Keith said, "That is a journal someone wrote. It pertains to an enigmatic town somewhere in Oregon. It is filled with spells and myths and curses. You could destroy the world reading some of that stuff." Ivan said, "I always thought Oregon was a dull place." Keith said, "It's not your Oregon. It is in a universe very similar to ours but we don't exist. It is very confusing and I did call you here for something. One of our freighters carrying crates filled with urns was hijacked by Multisword and we are needed to stop him." Ivan said, "Then let's go and bust this, Multisword and go out for dinner somewhere after or..." Keith said, "Multisword is one of the most feared villains in the Ultraverse. No hero or monk has ever defeated him. He is a living urn with four arms and swords. He jumps around and sticks to walls and ceilings. He is near impossible to defeat. We were just given an impossible task." Ivan said, "If it is impossible than why are we doing this?" Keith said, "Part of being a monk is to attempt the impossible for the greater good. If there is one thing I learned in the last two years in the Ultraverse and all those years I spent on earth, it is that any foe regardless of how invincible they seem has some kind of weakness. Since you are the yin-yang chosen one, I thought you might be what we need to finally defeat this Multisword." Ivan said, "I guess you want me to bring the friends along." Keith said, "Of course." Ivan said, "Also, where do you want me to put these things I picked up?" Ivan is still holding onto the Canadian Squirt gun, the 4 journal and the Thy Rules book. Keith said, "You can have those. I have way too many things."

Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Keith are in a monk starship and it is trekking through space. Ivan and Keith are looking at the radar. Keith said, "The coordinates I received say the ship should be in the region somewhere." Ivan sees there is nothing on the radar. Ivan said, "This place seems barren and deserted. How do we know the freighter is still here?" Keith said, "There are other freighter patrols around here that have reported through pings that the freighter is indeed hiding somewhere in this part of space." Ivan and Keith see something appear on the radar. Ivan said, "Is that it?" Keith said, "It seems so. It appears to be heavily shielded." Ivan said, "What are we going to do if it is heavily shielded?" Keith said, "Shields only block blaster fire and large physical objects. Objects the size of our ship should be able to go through the shield." Keith spins around in his seat and faces everyone aboard the starship. Keith said, "Here's the plan. We are going to connect to the port on the bottom of the ship. We will carefully trek through the dark hallways and corridors of the freighter. There is a shield generator that we must take out. When we take that out. We will send a signal to the allied freighters and they will open fire on the freighter. Multisword will be surrounded and he will have no choice but to surrender."

The starship is docked in the port at the bottom of the ship. The hatches are opened and Ivan, Keith, Dirk, and Safron leave their ship and they crawl into the dark corridors. Safron said, "It is kind of scary in here. This place kind of gives me the creeps." Dirk said, "It better be worth it in the end. Someone is going to get pounded here today and it may not be Multisword." Keith said, "I have been on many of these freighters myself so I know my way around them. The shield generator room is a labyrinth but finding the labyrinth is nearly impossible. We need to use my design map and find the correct path. It should be this way." The team follows Keith.

The team is still trekking down dark corridors and Dirk trips on something and his head smashes into a metal wall. Dirk yells, "OUCH! Who put this there? I am going to pound someone and beat their guts out and then..." Dirk sees he is alone. Dirk said, "Guys? Where did you go? Is this some kind of joke? If this is a joke than someone is going to get their butt beat on principle." Dirk sees in the dim light, a vending machine. It is filled with cola and treats. Dirk tries to press the buttons on the machine and they do nothing. Dirk looks around the machine and the machine is painted on the wall. Dirk said, "This machine is painted on. Dang painted on machines!" Dirk punches the wall and it breaks revealing a secret passage. Dirk said, "There's got to be something to eat or smash down here." Dirk treks down the path.

Keith is still leading Ivan and Safron to where he thinks the shield generator is. Keith, Ivan, and Safron see a group of Ultraverse Monks standing in the hall all grouped together. Ivan said, "Is that?" Keith said, "Fellow monks. It is Keith. We have come to rescue you. We can beat Multisword." The monks do nothing. Safron said, "Hey guys.

We are your friends.” Safron walks up to them and they drop down and their disguises are thrown off revealing they are urns with arms and swords like Multisword. Keith, Ivan, and Safron draw out their swords. They duel the urns. Safron sees the halls form a halfpipe and she pulls out her skateboard and she skates around the halfpipes and she uses her sword to fight off the urns. Ivan said, “Do you take a skateboard everywhere you go?” Safron said, “Of course I do. What else would I take with me, a book filled with some crazy guy’s thoughts?” Ivan looks in his cloak and he sees he still has the books and the Canadian Squirt Gun. Keith smashes an urn with his cyan sword of Redemption while Safron smashes more with her skateboard. Ivan tries fighting one of the urns and they cut Ivan’s arm. Ivan knees the urn in the face and Ivan jumps on the urn and breaks it. More urns keep flying in on jet packs and they drop a net over, Keith, Safron, and Ivan. They are grabbed and taken away.

Keith, Safron, and Ivan are brought to the bridge where Multisword proudly stands over everything. Multisword said, “Ah, why, look what the cat dragged in. Sir, Keith. I know you are Augi’s pet and a highly skilled monk but c’mon. You really don’t think you can beat me, the Multisword.” Ivan said, “What is your deal?” Multisword said, “I want to rule the Ultraverse and have everything go according to me. Isn’t that what every fruity freak you come across wants?” Ivan said, “I mean where did you come from and how did you end up where you are now?” Multisword said, “Hmm... No one has ever asked me that before. Well I guess I tell you up front. I am a great Ultraverse Innovator that died long before my time and was cremated. My ashes knew my business was unfinished so they possessed the urn I was placed into. With some modifications given to me from someone I can’t say, I have become the powerful immortal being you know me today. I am still undefeated. No monk has beaten me nor will ever beat me in anything, ever. I have hijacked this freighter filled with urns so I can create an entire urn army to rule the Ultraverse.” Safron said, “You are so full of yourself. Do you think people will like you if you defeat them and try to be better than them?” Multisword said, “I am not trying to be better than them or anyone else. As far as I am concerned, why should I make friends with people primitive to me? I shall only have friends with people stronger than me, like Convind.” Ivan said, “Convind is dead. I slashed my sword through him and he exploded and I was quarantined for two weeks because of that.” Multisword said, “Convind is still around somewhere. He will emerge again some day and he will have more when he comes back.”

Dirk walks through the dark corridors and he hears an energy humming sound and he sees energy blue light coming from a closed door. Dirk kicks the door down and he sees a shield generator with blue energy flowing through it. Dirk said, “This must be a...” Dirk sees a label on a control panel that reads, “Shield Generator.” Dirk said, “There is something about this shield generator...” Dirk sees Keith saying, “We must destroy the shield generator for our plan to proceed.” Dirk said, “Keith did say destroy.”

Dirk smashes the control panel and he grabs it and rips it out of the floor and he throws it into the energy blue swirls and they break and they fly all over the room.

Multisword stands over Keith, Ivan, and Safron. A computer voice said, "Shield generator, lost. Shield systems are now inoperative. You are now a sitting duck." Multisword said, "What?" Multisword jumps to the stats computer and it reveals the shields are destroyed. Multisword said, "I captured you guys so how could you have destroyed the shield generator?" Safron said, "I think we had someone else in our team." Ivan said, "We lost Dirk. It must have been Dirk." Multisword said, "Gosh dangit! You didn't lose Dirk then if he destroyed my shield." Keith said, "There is something else you didn't lose." Keith takes out his sword and he cuts up the net. Keith said, "Your idiot minions forgot to take our weapons." Safron and Ivan jump and take out their swords. Multisword said, "You guys really want to bring it on."

Multisword rapidly duels Keith, Safron, and Ivan. Multisword targets Keith and lures Keith to a wall. Multisword gets a lock on Keith's sword and Keith's sword goes flying out of his hand and lands on the floor. Ivan runs for the sword and Multisword runs for the sword. Multisword tries lifting the sword and it does not budge. Ivan does the same thing and it doesn't budge. Ivan said, "What is with this sword?" Keith said, "Only worthy people can lift the cyan sword of redemption." Multisword said, "In theory, if I turned good then I can lift the sword?" Keith said, "Of course but it does not look like that will happen." Keith grabs the sword and continues dueling Multisword. Ivan's eyes are big and he swinging left and right rapidly. Safron pulls out her skateboard and rolls it to Ivan and he jumps on the skateboard and skates around the bridge. Ivan said, "Keith was right. Multisword is a seemingly invincible foe. I wonder if I have something..." Ivan looks through the Journal with a the squiggly seven digit hand with a 4 on the palm and he sees an interesting spell.

Ivan skates to Multisword and Ivan said, "Sartificus dar mificus del mar set tant." A tree grows from the floor and it grabs Multisword and leaves him in the branches. His suction cups are fully exposed. Ivan takes the Canadian Squirt Gun and shoots out some liquid on the suction cups. Multisword breaks free and he cannot get a firm stick on the ground. Multisword keeps flailing and Ivan smacks Multisword with his sword. A crack forms in Multisword. Ivan sticks his sword into Multisword and flips him over and smashes him on the ground. Some ashes from Multisword come out. Multisword said, "You spilled my ashes. You pest! No one does that to me!" Multisword is about to jump at Ivan and Ivan drops his books and Safron picks up the book, Thy Rules and she smacks Multisword with the book.

Allied freighters show up and they blast the bridge of the freighter. The front of the freighter is blown off and the monks grab onto different things in the bridge so they don't get sucked into space. Multisword tries to stick on the ground but he can't stick since his suction cups are still wet and he plummets into space. A rescue ship comes and Dirk is in the rescue ship with some other monks. Keith, Ivan, and Safron let go and they fall into the rescue ship. The rescue ship flies away.

Ivan said, "It is my fault that Multisword got away. I shouldn't have used the Canadian Squirt Gun on him." Safron said, "Multisword is stuck in space somewhere and it is only a matter of time before he is found. I think you did awesome against him. You did better than me. I am scared of Multisword. I am glad you guys were brave against him. Here's your books." Ivan looks at the book he got from Keith. The pilot on the rescue ship said, "It looks like the ship is mostly intact and the prisoners are being freed. We will have to beef up security on those urns though."

Multisword is plummeting through space and he crashes on a barren grey planet with streams and pools of a red liquid. Multisword gets covered in dust and dirt and his crack gets larger.
